

Players leave the group after the rules are laid down

players

close up

As soon as tension rises and conflict between CC & Cruz begins, the camera cuts to a close up to show Cruz's angry facial expression

Cruz mocks Coach Carter to try and show off and to try and make himself seem powerful. Medium close up

Changing camera shot emphasizes to the audience that the conflict between Cruz & CC is significant

Cruz attacks the coach to emphasize his anger towards him. ~~Over the shoulders~~ Mid-shot is used to be able to view the action.

Over the shoulder shot to show the coach's power as he is laying down his rules

Cruz does not want to sign contract to prove he is better than it. He wants to follow his

The players are not used to being disciplined, so it is the coach's job to reinforce this.

Cruz was angry at the coach so he attempted to attack him.

Coach wants to stamp his authority.

Cruz is a rebellious character, so he does not want to follow a contract as he just wants to play basketball and not improve his grades.

- CC challenges stereotypes by saying this kind of is not ok to use the "n-word"
- CC challenges black men being irresponsible & disorganized

Cruz reinforces the stereotype of young black men being arrogant, violent and disobedient by being verbally offensive and attacking CC. Cruz uses the "n-word"

Boys walking away reinforces stereotype of black boys not wanting to follow the rules as they threw away their contracts

○ = links to scene

Cruz is upset and this is emphasized by the fact that he hear the sound of his screaming.

At the start of the scene there is a close up

○ Cruz's eyes

The coach's aim was to make people aware of his authority and to try and make people respect him

Morals are that people can change respect is earned, education is more important than sport respect your elders never give up